FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NANCY S. WATSON COOK, INC. ACQUIRED BY LEAD CHEF
Longtime friend and colleague to carry on company traditions

October 31, 2007 Nancy S. Watson Cook, Inc. was purchased by longtime friend and colleague Robin Hoppenrath. "It will be a seamless transition"; states Nancy Watson. "Robin has been my lead Chef for a few years now; the clients know her and trust that she will carry on in the tradition of the company."

Robin intends on carrying on the personalized service which entails working closely with the client to customize their event. Robin, a graduate of Kendall College Culinary School is well versed in the preparation and presentation of well thought out catering. "I have every intention of continuing the quality and personalized service that Nancy S. Watson Cook, Inc. has delivered for almost 20 years;" states Robin Hoppenrath. "I also intend on putting my own stamp on the company offering my own creativity and craftsmanship at a new level."

Nancy S. Watson Cook, Inc. will eventually have a new name; Classy Cut Catering which the new owner plans on transitioning in approximately one year. "The name Nancy's Classy Cut Catering - Nancy S. Watson Cook, Inc. Co. will ease our clientele into the new name."

Nancy's Classy Cut Catering offers a variety of catering services which include private and corporate affairs as well as event staffing and planning.
